

GRANGE HEARS JAMES FARMER

National Lecturer Talks on "March of the Grange" at Grand Prairie.

The progress and accomplishments of the grange in its organization 70 years ago were traced by James A. Farmer of South Newbury, N. H., lecturer of the National Grange, in a talk last night at a meeting of Grand Prairie Grange. The subject was "The March of the Grange."

Preceding the talk a program was presented by a group of young people who were graduates from Harding high school last spring, and an informal talk was given by R. B. Stowe, lecturer of Penna. Grange, who introduced the speaker.

Mr. Farmer stressed the importance of the lecture hour of the grange program and gave some valuable suggestions on program planning and activities. He cited the presentation of educational programs as a valuable means of keeping in touch with affairs of the nation as well as grange activities, and also as a means of acquainting the public with the objectives and purposes of the organization.

"The reason the grange has been so successful throughout the 70 years of its existence is the fact that it is a fraternal organization," he said. There are 600 grange meetings held over the United States each week night and one new grange hall is being built every fourth day, he pointed out.

An evidence of the progress which is being made. There are 3,500 grange halls in the United States, he said. In spite of these strides of progress, Mr. Farmer pointed out that three out of every 10 farmers in the United States are not affiliated with any form of organization.

A two-part play, "Our Graduates of Today and 10 Years Later," was given by Marguerite and Ralph Barkley, Richard Davidson, Albert Yeoman, Quentin Hinnaman, Robert Hinnaman, Hazel and Violet Freeman.

YEAR'S NYA PAYMENTS IN COUNTY TOTAL $5,739

122 School Pupils Share in Distribution During Period Ended in June.

With the distribution of National Youth Administration payroll checks for the month of June completed, a total of $5,739.39 has been paid to pupils in Marion county and county schools during the past year, Carl L. Lister, payroll administrator, announced today. Of that amount $1,560.91 was given to pupils in city schools and $1,052.35 to county pupils.

Although established primarily for members of relief families when the program was inaugurated in Marion county last October, members of non-relief families were added to the NYA payroll later. A total count of 122 pupils in the city and county was filed during the school term completed recently. The pupils were paid on a basis of from 15 to 25 cents an hour for excellency in scholastic work and for duties about the school. They assisted instructors in grading papers, general office work, and were permitted to be employed 40 hours each month. The money received was to be used for textbooks, clothes, bus fares and other items necessary for attendance in school.

U. S. Launches Drive To Tighten Up Enforcement of Revenue Measure.

By The Associated Press WASHINGTON, July 3.—The treasury department has quietly started a new drive to tighten enforcement of liquor laws and increase a major tax collection during the 1937 fiscal year just started.

Internal revenue officials disclosed last night that to draw the tax net tighter around bootleggers, moonshiners and other tax evaders and law violators, 185 additional investigators, inspectors and storekeepers agents have been added to the present force of 4,000 men.

More officers will be enlisted, officials said, until the internal revenue bureau has 360 new inspectors, 125 storekeeper gagers and 190 investigators, making a total enforcement staff of 4,500 men.

The New York district, which was understaffed, was assigned 26 of the 80 new investigators. The others, plus 34 inspectors, were scattered throughout the 15 revenue districts of the country.

The investigators are assigned the task of running down bootleggers and manufacturers of illicit liquor. They also must check all industrial alcohol production, which might be diverted into illegal channels.

Want Thorough Check The added inspectors will make possible a more thorough check on all retail stores, looking over stocks to make sure all bottles have the proper revenue stamps.

The 71 new storekeeper gagers have been assigned chiefly to Kentucky, Illinois, Indiana and other whiskey producing regions, where they check the production of all spirits manufactured for tax purposes.

Officials said in the past only one gager has been assigned to many distilleries where two or three should be on duty.

The internal revenue bureau has approximately 267 distilleries, 175 bonded warehouses, 800 wineries, 400 rectifying plants, 4,300 manufacturers and dealers in industrial alcohol, and 6,000 hospitals and laboratories that use alcohol, under its jurisdiction.

Widow of Ted Coy, Yale's Grid Hero, Pawns Jewelry

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 3.—The widow of E. H. (Ted) Coy, Yale's football immortal, was discovered here yesterday working as a domestic to eat and keep a roof over her head.

The discovery came after she visited a little pawnshop. There she pawned a wedding ring set in emeralds, a gold medalion, a gold football and a "skull and bones" fraternity badge in buy food.

The jewelry was engraved "E. H. Coy—Yale U."

The pawnbroker examined the articles and made an offer, which was accepted. He ventured: "Could it be Ted Coy, the Yale athlete?"

These were, she admitted, the trinkets of Coy, twice All-American and picked by Walter Camp for the all-time football team.

The pawnbroker, Phillip Rubins, wrote to the Skull and Bones Society of Yale, asking if it cared to buy the things which had belonged to Coy.

An answering telegram asked him to send the jewelry.

Today the widow was supporting herself as a domestic. She answered the doorman when a reporter called at a modest home here. Drying her hands, wet from kitchen work, she answered a question readily: "Yes, I'm Mrs. Ted Coy. How on earth did you find me here?"

She came here in January, she said, to visit a brother, who later was transferred to another city. "I haven't any money," she said. "That's the Simon-simple answer to this."

"Once I went five days in this town without a bite to eat. For Heaven's sake don't write a sob story. Oh, I'd read a lot of things like that, but it was the first time

FARLEY GETS SET TO LEAVE

Will Relinquish Postal Job for Three Months During Presidential Campaign.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 8.—James A. Farley today began winding up the affairs of his office as postmaster general preparatory to taking a three month leave of absence during which he will direct the new federal campaign.

President Roosevelt announced late yesterday that Farley, chairman of the Democratic national committee, would relinquish his cabinet post and pay between August 1 and election day.

There was a difference of opinion today as to whether Farley actually would return to the cabinet. Some officials believed he might resign after election day, if Mr. Roosevelt is re-elected, and return to private life. Others predicted he would not resign.

Howes To Take Charge
William W. Howes of South Dakota, first assistant postmaster general and a member of the Democratic national committee, will be in active charge of the department until after the election Nov. 2.

Critics of the administration, and some supporters, for many months have cried out against the fact that Farley, while a member of the cabinet, also has been chairman of the national and New York state Democratic committees.

Whether the question of Farley's posts has been settled to the satisfaction of these critics was not immediately made known.

The President said yesterday that between now and Aug. 1 Farley will finish up work on the annual financial statement of the post-office department.

Farley, whose salary is $15,000 annually, will lose about $3,870 in pay during his leave.

Farley's temporary departure from the administration scene after three years and five months marks only the second cabinet change since Mr. Roosevelt took office.

William H. Woodin resigned as secretary of the treasury at the beginning of 1934 because of ill health which later caused his death, and Henry Morgenthau Jr., of the farm credit administration, took his place in the cabinet.

MERCURY HITS 97 DEGREES IN MARION

On a sidewalk, Frank Shope, 20, died at Marion after being overcome while firing a kiln at the Ohio Calcium Co. plant.

Rain is the crying need of farmers generally in Ohio and there are no immediate indications of a good, ground-soaking, strengthening crop-saving rain. The Associated Press dispatch said:

"Unless it rains," said J. C. Ramsower, director of Ohio State agricultural extension, "the farmer can't do anything for his pastures, he can't do anything for his wheat, he can't do anything for his corn, but what he can do is to get his corn out of the field as soon as possible."

The city resident could water his lawn and keep it green. He could throw a good drizzle on his garden and keep it fresh. His wife could take a pitcher and keep the flower box fresh and bright.

But the Ohio farmer looked at a dry sky. Water out of a hose or running through an irrigation ditch could help his home garden, but his wheat, his corn, his pasture slowly approached a state of brown death.

"Not everywhere in Ohio, of course," Ramsower said. "There are a few bright spots and the current drought hasn't quite reached the portions of the state."

The 1934 drought cut 30 per cent from Ohio's normal corn crop of 150,000,000 bushels.

"There has been little rain in the central-western section of Ohio for more than a month," said Dr. J. L. Falconer, university farm economist. "And unless some relief comes soon, damage to corn may be heavier than during the 1930 drought."

Late Season Chance
Ramsower said that the farmer could "hedge" a little against the run by planting late forage crops, such as sudan grass, to assure a supply of hay for his stock this winter.

"But that won't be much help in the face of the greater damage he may suffer," he added.

Chief Engineer F. H. Waring of the state health department and state Geologist Wilbur Stout completed the picture of the farmers' troubles with reports of dwindling water supplies and a dropping water table.

"Although there has been no official complaint," Waring said, "we understand that the water supply at Springfield has been reduced by the dry weather, and that Wilmington, which has a deep well supply, has had trouble meeting consumption demands during the dry period."

"How far the water table has fallen nobody knows," Stout declared, recalling that it rose steadily during the winter and spring "no accurate survey has been made—but it is dropping."

Plane Drops Oil and Taxes Up To Filling Station.

By The Associated Press
LAVONIA, Ga., July 8.—An airplane dropped to a neat landing on a broad highway near here and taxied up to a roadside filling station.

"Fill her up," said the pilot to an astonished attendant.

The engine, consoled with the order but before he thought to ask his customer's name the nonchalant flier had poured down the road and taken off again.

'HUNGER SQUATTERS' PROMISE NO RIOTS

Claim They Will Resist, However, If Senate Tries To Evict Them.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., July 8.—Calling themselves "hunger squatters," two score members of the Ohio Workers' alliance awoke today from their second night of sleep on squalid chamber houses and issued a statement declaring "no rough stuff is contemplated."

The statement, signed by the organization's secretary, Ben Gray of Cleveland, added, "however, any attempt to evict the hunger squatters will be met with resistance."

They came to the senate Monday to back a relief bill introduced by Sen. William Zou, Democrat of Cuyahoga, to appropriate $20,000,000 for relief for the remainder of this year. With house approval of the new senate $1,000,000 stop-gap relief bill for July indicated.

The bill was expected to be passed in committee.

In their statement, the members, all unemployed, declared their goal to be "no formulas, no cuts, but direct cash relief to provide adequate minimum standards for those unable to secure work."

Blind Senator Trails in Fourth Place in Semi-Final Primary Vote.

By The Associated Press
OKLAHOMA CITY, July 8.—Sen. Thomas P. Gore, Oklahoma's veteran in the U. S. senate, conceded defeat today in his race for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

"The handwriting on the wall is perfectly visible to me," declared the blind statesman as he returns from the semi-final primary showed him trailing in fourth place.

Rep. Josh Lee, former public speaking professor, swept into one of the two positions for the runoff primary July 25, and Gov. E. W. Marland pulled ahead of Homer Smith, vice president of the national Townsend plan.

"The people give and the people take away," said Gore who had served the state in the senate for 10 years. "The people have spoken and I keep silent. I thank each and every friend for what they have done in my behalf."

Pulling heavily in city and rural precincts alike, Lee, staunch new dealer, took a commanding lead early and continued to top the right man race as returns rolled in.

Marland, also a new deal advocate, trailed in the early returns but pushed ahead of Smith, running as a Townsendite with the added assertion "I'll take no part in third party movements."

On the basis of unofficial returns from 2,188 precincts of the state's 2,411 voters, Marland was second with 74,486, Smith third with 72,322 and Gore fourth with 57,582.

TRUCE FOLLOWS RIOT AT CINCINNATI PLANT

One Shot, 30 Hurt and Two Buses Wrecked in Running Fight With Strikers.

By The Associated Press
CINCINNATI, O., July 8.—A 24-hour truce and renewed confidence between strikers and Remington-Union officials grew today marked by a battle at the company plant in which a bystander was shot, 30 or more persons injured, and two buses wrecked in running fights.

It T. Anderson, manager, ordered the factory shut down today after three days of partial operation, each of which has been marked by violence. Anderson said he would confer with union officials and Remington-Union plant judge Alfred Mark in an attempt to reach a settlement.

A crowd, estimated by police at more than 1,000 persons, gathered about the gates of the plant in suburban Norwood late yesterday. As buses containing many of the 250 workers left the plant, they were greeted with a shower of stones.

Men in automobiles pursued one bus load of women workers six miles to the yard of the Hamilton county court house. Another en route to the plant, was overturned, and a third was wrecked in a traffic jam at a busy street intersection.

Jack Veneman of Norwood, a bystander, entered a hospital early today for treatment of a bullet wound in his leg.

HOFFMAN DELAYS TRIAL OF PARKER

By The Associated Press
TRENTON, N. J., July 8.—Prosecution of Ellis Parker Sr., rural New Jersey detective chief, on charges of kidnaping Paul H. Wendel was snaggled today by the flat refusal of Gov. Harold G. Hoffman to extradite the detective to New York.

There is no appeal from the governor's decision but in Brooklyn, N. Y., Wendel, disbarred Trenton attorney whose statements delayed the execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann three days, said he would ask the federal government to arrest Parker under the Lindbergh anti-kidnaping law.

KANSAS LEGISLATURE SPEEDS UP ITS WORK

Limits Special Session to Consideration of Amendments.

By The Associated Press
TOPEKA, Kan., July 8.—Despite minority demands for immediate action on social security legislation, the Kansas legislature moved today toward an early end of the special session called by Gov. Alf Landon for consideration of constitutional changes to clear the way for such enactments.

The legislature will hold a regular session next January.

Gov. Landon, acknowledging the "public obligation" of social security, told the assembly yesterday the necessity for changes in the state constitution had been impressed on him by a majority of its lawyer members.

Democrats were quick to protest. Amid cries of "gag rule," the house of representatives promptly limited the session to consideration of proposed amendments—one to permit a delay in participation in the federal relief program.

The house voted 61 to 47 against consideration of immediate social security legislation.

Sen. Joe McDonald, a Democrat, forced a delay in participation in the federal relief program.

McDonald said he would press a demand today for an investigation of relief expenditures in Kansas.

He contended no amendments were necessary for a social security program. Most Republicans contended the state constitutional provision placing the burden of relief on the counties would have to be altered before the state could supervise and participate in a program.

Stewart valley, north of Swift Current and 135 miles west of Regina, reported a two-hour heavy rainfall. Rain fell in Moose jaw for an hour.

3 SOUGHT AS KILLERS OF FIRE CAPTAIN

Chauffeur Said To Have Confessed He Hired Trio To Commit Murder.

By The Associated Press
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 8.—Indiana state police began a search today for three men whom Capt. Matt Leach said were hired last night by Heber L. Hicks, 35-year-old Cincinnati chauffeur, as the slayers of Harry L. Miller, retired Cincinnati fire captain.

Leach announced at Seymour, Ind., that Hicks had confessed that he employed the three men to kill Miller and said the murder occurred at Miller's cottage at New Trenton, Ind.

Miller's dismembered body was found in Kentucky recently. The torso was found near Eminence, Ky., June 18 and the head and hands, embedded in a box of cement, were found in a lake near Carrollton, Ky., June 22.

Hicks' confession, Leach said, exonerated Miss Flora Miller, 66, the murdered man's sister, who had been held by state police for several days, and she was released.

Robbery was the motive for the murder, Leach said, and he added that Hicks told him he had $100,000 worth of securities, belonging to Miller, in a safe in Cincinnati.

Miller was killed June 11. Hicks' told state police, but he insisted he was not at the cottage when the murder took place.

State police obtained the statement from Hicks at Seymour last night after several days of dodging around the state with him and Miss Miller in an effort to avoid service of a writ of habeas corpus to bring about their release.

The statement said Miller did not die until his slayers were almost to the Kentucky line and the body was dismembered after they reached the state.

The chauffeur was turned over to Franklin county, Indiana, authorities and Prosecutor Kenneth Copes said the grand jury would be called into session immediately to consider the case. Miller's cottage is in Franklin county.

WPA WORKERS WINDING UP PROPERTY INVENTORY

Approved Report on Project Expected Here From Wash-

Information to complete the Marion real property inventory, a WPA project which has employed as many as 50 workers, is now being assembled, Paul G. Hobart, director of the work in Marion, reported today.

The approved report is expected to be returned from Washington by the middle of July, Mr. Hobart said, and will be turned over to the Marion county commissioners, sponsors of the project.

The real property inventory is intended to serve many purposes, according to Mr. Hobart. Among its uses, he said, will be as an aid to city planning, zoning, extension of recreational and educa-

the extension of utilities, communications and other services.

Under 44 headings

The inventory consists of 44

ownership, mortgage indebtedness, condition and types of structures,
density of population and concen-

Reported in Full Swing at Prospect
And LaRue

The federal WPA recreational project for Marion city and rural communities of the county is now in full swing in Prospect and La-Rue. Clarence Lens, rural super-

Mr. Lens said the attendance at Prospect has been averaging about 125 boys and girls daily and that equally satisfactory.

It is hoped that the program can other effort will be made Friday

It is generally conceded by leading chiropractors, and readily understood by every sincere investigator, that only through the use of X-ray is it possible to gain a thorough knowledge of the exact condition existing in the spine. For this reason all chiropractors using Palmer Method do no spinal adjusting without first making a careful analysis by X-ray.

This is simply a matter of adjusting a spine, only after scientifically establishing a reason for giving an adjustment. This attention to detail in every case is the secret of the enviable record of results established by this office.
